December 22, 2014

Disclosure Statement

The large-scale district panel data set and data processing which underpins this paper was financed by the ESRC-DFID Poverty Alleviation Fund, the DFID funded Institutions for Pro-Poor Growth (iiG) Research Consortium, the International Growth and the European Union's Seventh Framework Programme (FP/2007-2013)/ERC Starting Grant Agreement no. 283837. The views expressed here are those of the authors alone and do not necessarily reflect those of DFID.

I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Edward Miguel
Oxfam Professor of Environmental and Resource Economics, Department of Economics
Director, Center for Effective Global Action
University of California, Berkeley